PRESS RELEASE

E-TROLZ Appoints Two New Directors to its Board of Directors

Lawrence, MA – July 27, 2006

E-TROLZ, Inc., an innovator of highly integrated signal acquisition and data management products for electrophysiological medical device OEMs, announced today the appointment of two new members to its Board of Directors; James B. Hawkes, who is currently Chairman and CEO of Eaton Vance Corp. headquartered in Boston Massachusetts, and Richard Pierro, Founder and President of Superior Controls, Inc. located in Plaistow, New Hampshire. “We are pleased to welcome our two new board members to E-TROLZ, and I look forward to having their unique business insights represented on our E-TROLZ Board. The addition of these two board members greatly broadens the perspective and business diversity of our Board of Directors” said Jim Robertson, Chairman and CEO of E-TROLZ.

“E-TROLZ is well positioned to take advantage of the opportunities offered by the rapidly growing medical device industry and I look forward to assisting this highly talented and focused team,” said Jim Hawkes. “I am impressed with the capital-efficient product and business development the E-TROLZ team has achieved.”

“E-TROLZ’s unique architecture enables optimal measurement of precisely timed signals while delivering seamless data analysis, presentation and integration with the standard Microsoft Windows™ environment,” said Richard Pierro. “This architecture provides important advantages to medical device OEMs improving time to market and ease of FDA approval.”

About James B. Hawkes

Mr. Hawkes is the Chairman and CEO of Eaton Vance Corp., a Boston-based publicly traded asset management firm. He joined the firm in 1970 and has served in various capacities during his 36 year career, including Investment Analyst, Portfolio Manager, Director of Investment
